

www.inquisitr.com

Iggy Azalea's Plastic Surgery: The Media Speculates Over The Pretty Girl's New Look

So, did Iggy Azalea get plastic surgery or not? The media is already speculating over what the rapper has gotten done lately. The 24-year-old debuted her startling new look at the 2015 Billboard Music Awards. Iggy Azalea spoke to Giluiana Rancic about her new hairstyle on the red carpet on Sunday evening.

“I’m recording a new album so I felt like I need a new change of hair and change of style, so I’m feeling very, very vamped.” The Australian rapper sported a baby blue crop top and matching pencil skirt with nude panels. Azalea paired her sexy new look with fuchsia pointed-toe pumps and Barbie makeup.

No one’s talking about Iggy Azalea’s new pink dip-dyed hair, though. According to several reports, the “Pretty Girls” rapper went under the knife to get a nose and chin implant, which she planned to debut at the awards show. In fact, Azalea loves her new look and doesn’t care what her “haters” have to say.

An alleged source told Us Weekly that she had a nose job and chin implant a few months after she had breast augmentation surgery. That comes after the rumors that management told her that she should get a nose job to better her music career and image. “She loves the results! She wasn’t happy with her nose for a long time, so after the boobs she wanted to get that taken care of and then got the chin done at the same time.”

He’s not the only plastic surgeon who believes that Iggy Azalea had her nose and chin done. Dr. David Cangello also believes that Iggy had rhinoplasty and a chin implant. “The tip of her nose looks much more defined in the May picture, and broader and flatter in the March picture. Her chin definitely looks more projected, as well. It actually appears to be a bit crooked, which can happen as the result of misplacement of a chin implant.”

However, board certified plastic surgeon Lyle Back believes that Azalea had other work done to change up her features. He also slammed the “Fancy” rapper for her new look. “Iggy seems to have had her eyes done, a forehead/brow lift, Botox injections around the eyebrows, a nose job, wrinkle filler injections around the mouth, lip enhancement injections, and a chin implant. Iggy is still quite pretty, but now she looks like someone else — I see Christina Applegate crossed with Kaley Cuoco crossed with Keanu Reeves. She is barely recognizable as Iggy. That’s not a fancy (nor desirable) a result to me.”

The rapper has been open up about going under the knife before. In an interview with Vogue, Iggy opened up about her breast augmentation procedure. “I did change something: Four months ago, I got bigger boobs! I’d thought about it my entire life.” Iggy Iggs seems really happy about her new pair. In fact, she even talked about them with E! News after the 2015 iHeartRadio Music Awards.

“I love them so much I had to talk about them. Everybody did say, ‘I don’t think you need to say it because no one will ever know because they’re so small. I said, ‘I know but I’m just going to say it [because] I’m a blabber mouth!’ “