

KNIFESTYLES OF THE RICH & FAMOUS

2009

FOREHEAD

"Patti appears to have minimal Botox to soften her forehead lines," says Dr. Lyle Back. "It complements other, more dramatic improvements." Upkeep? $1,000 every six months.

NOSE

While many nose jobs end up looking unnatural and obvious, Patti's redone rhinoplasty "gives her a nicer, more artistic shape," notes Dr. Back of Philadelphia. A top-notch nose job costs $12K.

CHEEKS

"It appears fat-injection sculpting has been performed to near perfection, restoring beautiful fullness to her cheeks," shares Dr. Back. Fat transfers to the cheeks average about $5K.

SKIN

"The cherry on top of it all was an excellent laser resurfacing [$2K] of her skin," adds Dr. Back. "Her complexion is smoother and more even, with less of a weathered, sun-damaged look."

The Matchmaker Makeover

Patti Stanger, star of WE tv's Million Dollar Matchmaker, always has beauty tips for the women looking for love on her show. And the 55-year-old isn't just doling out the advice — she's taking it. Over the past seven years, the dating guru appears to have gotten a few enhancements of the nip-tuck variety, says Philadelphia plastic surgeon Dr. Lyle Back. While earlier procedures, including an apparent botched rhinoplasty, had left her looking overdone, "Patti's face has been reborn in a very natural and beautiful way," observes Dr. Back, who does not treat the outspoken reality diva. "Her nose was gently adjusted, giving it a more pleasing shape, and fat-injection sculpting — around her eyes, temples, cheeks and jawline — has given her a youthful, full look. Plus, the fat for all these injections was presumably obtained by liposuction elsewhere." The final touch? Laser resurfacing, resulting in a fresher, younger-looking complexion. "I would guess that her skin has a much smoother texture as well, and probably feels great to the touch," Dr. Back notes. "Her appearance has been sculpted and reshaped by a real artistic master!" Patti's female clients better watch out — these days, she may be the one who's getting all the attention! LS

Kailyn Lowry

It's been a year of big changes for the Teen Mom 2 star. In January, the 24-year-old underwent a mommy makeover that included liposuction, a tummy tuck and a Brazilian butt lift — surgeries that husband Javi Marroquin later blamed, in part, for their May split. But the newly single blonde wasn't done tinkering. "Tried to get lip fillers," she tweeted in June, "and had a reaction!" While the over-the-top swelling Kailyn experienced post-injection has since gone down, men still say they prefer her au naturel smile from 2015 (left).
