

Filler Overload?!

They've Got Chipmunk Cheeks

These stars look like they're storing food for winter!

KRIS JENNER, 61

The "chipmunk cheeks" look, as illustrated by the Kardashian matriarch, is the result of "too much filler injected in the mid-cheek area, close to the nose," explains NYC-area plastic surgeon Dr. Steve Faliek. "This isn't what you want from a cosmetic treatment."

LINDSAY LOHAN, 30

NYC dermatologist Dr. Gary Goldenberg says Lindsay's "midface is overfilled" and it's aging her. "She's too young for this much filler," he says. "It's just not necessary."

PRISCILLA PRESLEY, 71

Botched plastic surgery by an unqualified surgeon means Elvis' ex may always look...well, a bit off. Dr. Faliek says the best treatment is time. "I would stop doing everything, see what her real face looks like and go from there," he says.

MADONNA, 58

You had to figure a self-proclaimed Material Girl wouldn't let herself grow old naturally. "She's kept her face looking young," says Michigan-based plastic surgeon Dr. Anthony Youn. Excess filler, however, has left her looking "unnaturally puffy."

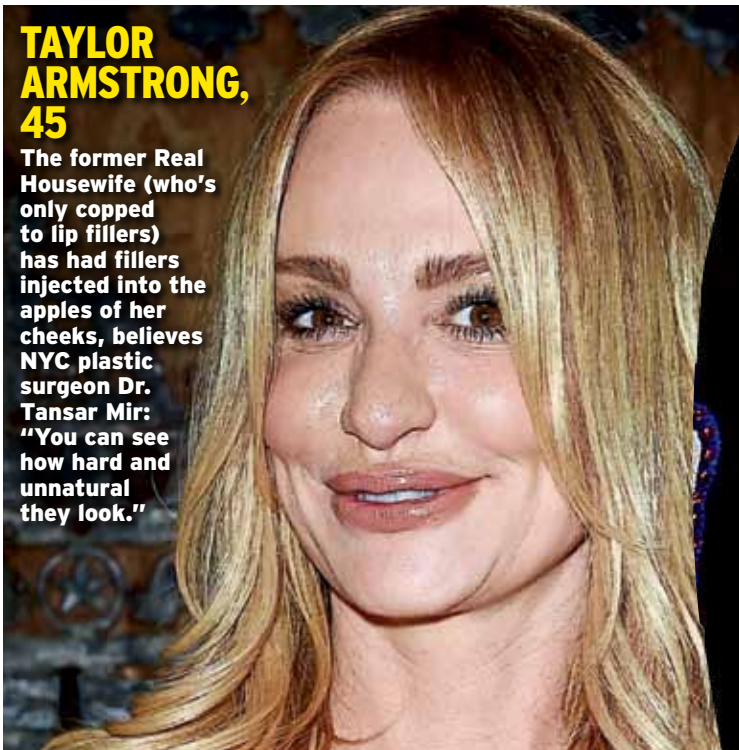

JENNIFER WESTFELDT, 47

"If filler is placed in the wrong location, it produces a chipmunk, rather than contoured, look," says Dr. Goldenberg. Next time, the actress might want to ask for filler placed in the lateral part of her cheek, closer to her ears.

CALISTA FLOCKHART, 52

What might be a fine amount of filler for most women doesn't work for the former Ally McBeal star because of how thin she is, say the experts. "You can see her facial muscles straining," says Dr. Lyle Back, "as they attempt to lift those heavy cheeks up."

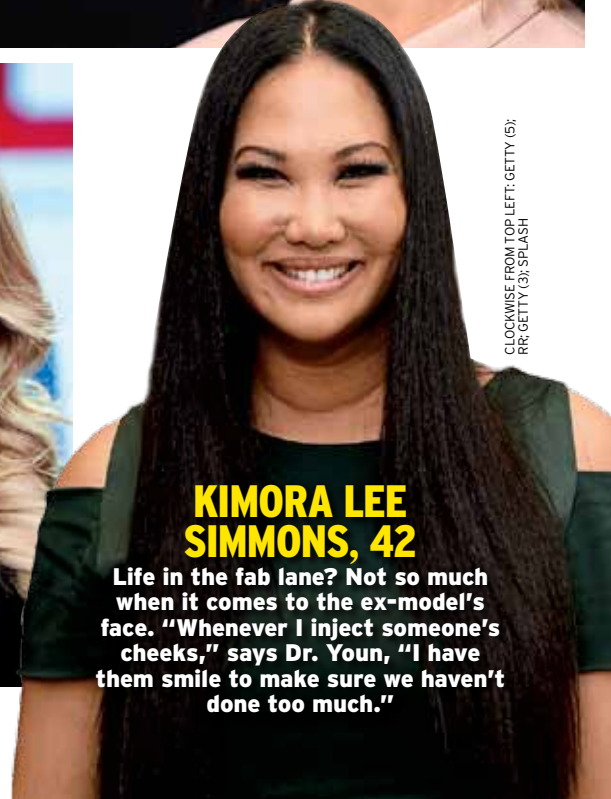

TAYLOR ARMSTRONG, 45

The former Real Housewife (who's only copped to lip fillers) has had fillers injected into the apples of her cheeks, believes NYC plastic surgeon Dr. Tansar Mir: "You can see how hard and unnatural they look."

BRANDI GLANVILLE, 44

The former Real Housewife has admitted to getting "tons" of filler and Botox - and our experts agree she's overdone it. "It doesn't look natural," says Dr. Goldenberg. "Her cheeks are way too wide."

KIMORA LEE SIMMONS, 42

Life in the fab lane? Not so much when it comes to the ex-model's face. "Whenever I inject someone's cheeks," says Dr. Youn, "I have them smile to make sure we haven't done too much."

*The experts quoted in this story have not treated these stars.

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP LEFT: GETTY (5); RR: GETTY (3); SPLASH